Sutton Coldfield Station

Sutton Park

By car

Sutton Coldfield is on the A5127 between Birmingham and Lichfield, with easy access from North Birmingham, Walsall, Lichfield, Tamworth and surrounding areas.

Parking is well provided for in the area with plenty of car parks and some limited on-street parking, however there is no parking directly on the High Street.

Parking coming from the South (Birmingham)

- as you approach the town centre you will enter the one-way system, this will take you around to back of the Mall shopping centre, House of Fraser and the multi-story car park. After the Multi-story is Sutton Coldfield United reform church (On your Right) as you pass the church turn left off the one-way system into Station Street. Station Street and Reddicroft car parks are on your left and right as you head up toward the Rail Station. Walk up through Reddicroft car park, turn left into Reddicroft, at the top of the road turn right into Railway Road for about 50 yards. High Street is at the end of the road, Sutton Coldfield Counselling and Psychotherapy is directly opposite Railway Road, above 'Chattings Lettings'. Our entrance is at the side of the building, ring the bell at the side door. (Please do not arrive too early for your appointment as we may be unavailable to answer the door).

See the enclosed map for further car parks and on-street parking options.

Parking coming from the North (Lichfield Walsall Tamworth)

- if you approach Sutton town centre from the North (Lichfield Road), as you near the town centre you will pass the college on your left, after the college you enter High Street take the first right (King Edwards Square) up to the town hall, there is some limited on-street parking here, and a large pay-and-display around to the right in Anchorage Road. Walk back to High Street and turn right, Sutton Coldfield Counselling is directly opposite Railway Road, above 'Chattings Lettings'. Our entrance is at the side of the building, ring the bell at the side door. (Please do not arrive too early for your appointment as we may be unavailable to answer the door).

See the enclosed map for further car parks and on-street parking options.
